FARMVILLE

From Richmond, Va. Lee and his army retreated west toward Farmville. On Apr 7 they were met at that town by a force of Federals under Gen. Theodore R. EAD. and after a sharp skirmish, the latter was repulsed and he crossed the APPOMATTOX. At that time

other divisions of Federals arrived
and renewed the attack,
capturing between 5,000 and 7,000
prisoners; 16 pieces of artillery, and 400 wagons.

Apr 9, 1865

General Lee surrendered at Appomattox

Apr 9, 1865

When Lee became convinced that further resistance was useless he said
"Then there is nothing left me but to go and see General Grant and I would die a thousand deaths."

The 2 Generals met at McLean's house
in the little village of Appomattox Court House.

Grant was magnanimous, Lee heroic

in his adversity, generous terms were offered and the paper signed that ended the war.

The Confederates badly needed food. Grant supplied them with rations.
